1. What is an “eviction moratorium”?

A “moratorium” is the temporary prohibition of an activity. The City of San Marcos has passed an eviction moratorium ordinance, which prevents a landlord from evicting an eligible tenant while the eviction moratorium is in effect. The original ordinance was to remain in effect through May 31, 2020. However, on May 12, 2020, City Council voted to extend the eviction moratorium through June 30, 2020. The requirements for qualifying as an eligible tenant are discussed below.

2. Who is an “eligible tenant” protected by an emergency eviction moratorium?

Eligible residential and commercial tenants include those whose income and ability to pay rent have been substantially affected by the COVID-19 pandemic. You may be protected by an emergency eviction moratorium if you have experienced any of the following (this is not an exhaustive list):

- Loss of employment due to COVID-19;
- Loss of employment due to diagnosis of COVID-19 or recommended quarantine;
- Loss or substantial reduction in employment due to a loss of childcare due to school closure;
- Loss of employment resulting from need to care for a family member suffering from COVID-19;
- Loss of income due to state/local requirement requiring those 65 and over to stay indoors;
- Compliance with an order from a government health authority to stay home, self-quarantine, or avoid congregation with others during the state of emergency;
- Compliance with other federal, state or local COVID-19 mandate precluding the tenant from earning their normal income;
- Incurred substantial medical costs related to COVID-19.

If your income or ability to pay rent has been affected by the COVID-19 pandemic, you must notify your landlord and provide documentation demonstrating the relationship between your inability to pay rent and COVID-19. Failure to give timely notice waives the protections under the eviction moratorium.

Please be aware that most of the emergency eviction moratoriums do not provide protection for all nonpayment of rent – the inability to pay rent must be related to or a result of the COVID-19 pandemic or any governmental response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

3. I lost income as a result of COVID-19. When and how do I inform my landlord that I am unable to pay my rent?

You must inform your landlord in writing that you are unable to pay the rent due to a COVID-19 related issue and provide supporting documentation.

FAILURE TO PROVIDE NOTICE OR DOCUMENTATION WITHIN THE REQUIRED DAYS WAIVES THE PROTECTIONS OF THE EVICTION MORATORIUM.

NOTICE MUST BE PROVIDED EACH MONTH YOU ARE NOT ABLE TO PAY RENT BECAUSE OF COVID-19.

- San Marcos
  - You must inform your landlord in writing that you are unable to pay the rent due to a COVID-19 related issue and provide supporting documentation within seven (7) days of your rent being due.
  - Note that the original ordinance allowed tenants 30 days from the date the rent was due, but on May 12, 2020 City Council amended the ordinance to provide a seven day notice period so as to be in line with Executive Order N-37-20.
- Executive Order N-37-20 dated March 27, 2020 from Governor Newsom provides as follows:
  - You must notify your landlord in writing before the rent is due, or within a reasonable period of time afterwards not to exceed seven (7) days, that the tenant needs to delay all or some payment of rent because of an inability to pay the full amount due to reasons related to COVID-19.
  - Governor's executive order states "documentation must be provided to the landlord no later than the time upon payment of back due rent." This language is ambiguous, as the Executive Order does not specify a timeline for repayment of back due rent.

Accordingly, we highly recommend providing the documentation as soon as possible, and no later than required by your local ordinance as outlined above.

- It is our opinion that the Governor's executive seven (7) day notice requirement overrides more restrictive local notice requirements. However out of an abundance of caution, we advise that you provide your written notice no later than the notice required by your local ordinance as outlined above.

You may inform your landlord and provide documentation by writing a letter, sending an email, or sending a text message to your landlord or your landlord's representative.

4. What kind of documentation do I need to provide my landlord to demonstrate that I cannot pay the rent as a result of COVID-19, and when do I need to provide it?

An eligible tenant, commercial and residential, must provide supporting documentation to show they cannot pay the amount of rent due because they were impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic. (See attached notice template for commercial and residential tenants.)

Start collecting this documentation early! You need to provide it to your landlord as soon as possible, and will need to provide additional documentation later on if you need more time to pay your rent.

In the City of San Marcos, you must provide documentation within 7 days of the date rent was due.

Executive Order N-37-20 dated March 27, 2020 from Governor Newsom states "documentation must be provided to the landlord no later than the time upon payment of back due rent." This language is ambiguous, as the Executive Order does not specify a timeline for repayment of back due rent. Accordingly, we highly recommend providing the documentation as soon as possible, and no later than required by your local ordinance as outlined above.

Acceptable documentation may include, but is not limited to:

- Letter or note from your job stating that you have been laid off, that your hours have been reduced, or that your place of business is closed due to COVID-19;
- Letter or text message from your child's school/pre-school/daycare regarding closures;
- Text message or email from your employer asking you not to come to work;
- Photo showing your place of employment is closed due to COVID-19;
- Screenshots from Uber, Lyft, Instacart, DoorDash, etc. applications showing that you have experienced reduced income;
- Pay stubs or copies of paychecks for a few months showing that your income has been reduced;
- Medical documentation related to COVID-19;
- Receipts for medical costs related to COVID-19;
- A signed declaration under penalty of perjury certifying the reason why you have experienced a reduced income or difficulty paying your rent as a result of COVID-19 or the governmental response to COVID-19.

The law requires that any medical or financial information provided to a landlord must be kept confidential and only used for the sole purpose of evaluating the tenant's claim for eligibility under the emergency eviction moratorium.

5. If I am an eligible tenant, do I still have to pay my rent?

Yes. An emergency eviction moratorium does not relieve you of your responsibility to pay rent. If you are able to pay some portion of your rent, you must pay whatever amount you can (this amount will not be considered a "delayed payment").

The City of San Marcos ordinance does not specify the amount of time for repayment of rent. The ordinance, as amended by City Council on May 12, 2020, will remain in effect until June 30, 2020, unless extended by City Council. Accordingly, eligible tenants have until June 30, 2020 to pay their landlords all unpaid rent.

Executive Order N-37-20 dated March 27, 2020 from Governor Newsom reads, "[n]othing in this Order shall prevent a tenant who is able to pay all or some of the rent due from paying that rent in a timely manner or relieve a tenant of liability for unpaid rent."

6. If I am protected by the eviction moratorium, may my landlord charge me late fees or interest?

The City of San Marcos does allow your landlord to recover any late fees imposed by an underlying rental agreement.

Executive Order N-37-20 dated March 27, 2020 from Governor Newsom is silent on the issue of late fees. Since the Executive Order N-37-20 does not explicitly prevent the charge of late fees, your landlord may most likely be able to collect late fees only if provided for by your written rental agreement.

7. I received a "no-fault eviction" notice from my landlord, am I protected by this emergency eviction moratorium?

A so-called "no-fault eviction" is an eviction where the tenant is evicted through no fault of their own. They paid their rent on time. They followed the rules. However, the landlord has decided at the end of the tenant's lease term that he no longer wishes to rent to that tenant.

As of January 1, 2020, a new state-wide, AB 1482, went into effect providing tenant protections for "no-fault evictions." Please call us or contact an attorney if you have further questions about how AB 1482 may apply to you.

No-fault evictions are not protected by the City of San Marcos emergency ordinances, nor by Governor Newsom's Executive Order.

8. Are there any additional protections against evictions in California?

Yes. On April 6, 2020 the Judicial Council of California adopted an Emergency Rule No. 1 that effectively stops all evictions unless necessary to protect public health and safety for the duration of the COVID-19 emergency. The rule is applicable to all evictions regardless of the basis. The rule:

- Prohibits a court from issuing a summons after a landlord files an eviction case, unless a court finds on the record that the action is necessary to protect public health and safety.
- Prohibits a court from entering a default judgment against the tenant because the tenant failed to file a response unless the court finds:
  - The eviction is necessary to protect public health and safety; and
  - The tenant failed to respond in the time required by law, including the 60-day extension contained in the Governor's Executive Order N-37-20.
- For eviction cases where the tenant has responded, the new rule prevents a court from setting the case for trial earlier than 60 days after a trial is requested, unless necessary to protect public health and safety.
- Requires any trial in an eviction case that was already scheduled as of April 1 to be postponed at least 60 days from the initial trial date.
- The rule will remain in effect until September 1, 2020.

9. What relief is available for landlords who cannot pay their mortgage?

On March 16, 2020, Governor Newsom signed Executive Order N-28-20 directing mortgage lenders to implement an immediate moratorium on foreclosures due to a borrower's inability to pay as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic. This moratorium will last until May 31, 2020. If you find yourself unable to pay your mortgage due to COVID-19, immediately contact your servicer. Your servicer will likely be unaware of Governor Newsom's Executive Order. Immediately fax or email the Order to them highlighting paragraph 5 of the Order. Make sure you retain any documentation showing your inability to pay due to COVID-19. The ongoing pandemic is fluid and changes every day. Governor Newsom may issue additional Executive Orders to provide further clarification.

At the same time, the Governor announced that the following banks have agreed to defer mortgage payments for 90 days for those impacted by COVID-19:

- Citigroup;
- JP Morgan Chase;
- US Bank;
- Wells Fargo; and
- Over 200 state chartered banks and credit unions.
- These banks have also agreed to waive and reverse any late fees as well as other fees including early CD withdrawal fees.

There are to be no new foreclosure sales or evictions at least through May 31, 2020.

There are also no credit score changes for accessing this relief.

In addition, on April 6, 2020, the Judicial Council of California adopted Emergency Rule No. 2 related to judicial foreclosures. The rule:

- Prevents a court from taking any action or issuing any decisions or judgments unless necessary for public health and safety.
- Postpones any legal deadlines for filing foreclosure cases.
- Extends the period for electing or exercising any rights in a foreclosure case, including any right of redemption from a foreclosure sale, or petitioning the court in relation to such a right.

- This rule will remain in effect until September 1, 2020
